SPECIAL ORDER PRODUCTS

It has come to our attention that there may be some confusion as to the pricing on special order products. As a reminder, the price per bottle on special order products, as noted in the quarterly price book, is the known price per bottle of the product at the time the book is sent to the publisher.

The quarterly price book is usually sent to the publisher approximately 60 days prior to its effective date. Since the price per bottle on special order products is subject to change at any time, the price in the quarterly price book may not always be the most current.

Please make sure to review the monthly Product Update sheets for price changes or contact our office to confirm pricing. In addition to the monthly Product Update sheets, we also send out weekly updates via e-mail. Contact Jamie Williams at 800-332-6135 option 4 to be included on the distribution list.

Next, some slight changes were made to the Special Order section, starting with the November, December 2011 and January 2012 quarterly price book. The column labeled "Maint. Y/N" depicts which special order items we typically have constant inventory available at the liquor warehouse. This column was added to the book to give you some advance notice of how long it may take to receive. Please remember, if the column shows "N", it may take six weeks or more to receive depending on supplier requirements and availability.

Lastly, all special order products will go on backorder if we do not have inventory on hand. This is true for both special order products that are maintained and special order products that are not maintained. Only order the product again if you want additional quantities beyond your original request. Contact Shana Goddard at 800-332-6135 option 5 for questions regarding your special order requests.

If you have any questions regarding the above information, please do not hesitate to contact us. Thank you.
